It was a case with the odds against him and where he must succoed or stand excellent chances of losing his life and from the present indications a double sacrifice has been made, regrettable as it is, though nothing definite is as yet known.

EXCLUSION OF BERGER.

Perhaps Victor Berger was surprised at the action that was taken in the lower house of congress on the opening day of the special session when he was refused permission to from which he was elected, but the country at large will not be, matter must undergo a thorough investigation by an election 'committee which will go over the facts in the case and make its report later dur-zant. Berger has been elected to congress by the socialists, but it is not a matter of his politics, but his standing as a citizen that prevents him from being seated. It would be a pretty situation to allow a man who has been found guilty of disloyalty and sentenced to pri-son, even though he has appealed his case, to participate in the making of new laws or the unmaking of present laws for the rest of the people of the United States, and particularly so when he has actually defied the very laws that were considered necessary to properly protect the nation against the activity of those who were playing into the hands of and giving encouragement to the enemy. The right action has been taken in his case and unless his appeal is dewided in his favor there is no chance of his becoming a member of the 66th congress. Those who cannot abide by laws should not be lawmakers.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

From all sections of the country has been almost at a standstill for two or more years and the result is that the effects of this stagnation are now to increase. With conditions normal there would up operations so as to quickly overcome this condition, but conditions are far from normal and the disposition is to wait until pre-war conditions return. There is an inclination to withhold orders to builders why not have it over with and let the until the expense connected with Army put its work on a higher basis such operations declines, otherwise it of efficiency?

set a proper return from such investments a few years hence. It is a serious question to know how to handle fust at the present time with material and labor where they are. It is to be noted, however, that the problem is being tackled to some extent in most every community based on the need which exists and the statements made to the effect that there is little or no prospect of any appreciable decline in prices for some time to come. Now attention is being given to the best way of meeting spielling activity under existing conditions and making good in the long run, but while much construction work will be undertaken it is certain that it is far below what would otherwise be started were conditions and making good in the long run, but while much construction work will be undertaken it is certain that it is far below what would otherwise be started were conditions and making good in the long run, but while much construction work will be undertaken it is certain that it is far below what would otherwise be started were conditions and making good in the long run, but while much construction work will be undertaken it is certain that it is far below what would otherwise be started were conditions and making good in the long run, but while much construction work will be undertaken it is certain that it is far below what would otherwise be started were conditions and making good in the long run, but while much construction work will be undertaken it is certain that it is far below what would otherwise be started were conditions more favorable than they are.

This has not recently come to light for it has been known for many years, but the time is ripe for taking action that will curtail its power and henceforth there are reasons to be lieve that Turkey will be restricted to a small section of Asia Minor and possibly lose what little it now has in Europe including Constantinople.
